

Further Food Waste Tips

For Poster 21

If you run a business and employ staff, it is your responsibility to train them properly, especially with regard to food safety. If you run your own training courses have them regularly checked by a qualified, recognised organisation.